Summary

Aspiring junior game developer passionate about creating immersive 3D experiences. I have developed several projects showcasing my skills in game design, level development, and storytelling.

Projects:

Trap: A 3D game where players navigate through challenging levels to reach the destination. Each level introduces increased difficulty, providing an engaging and progressive gameplay experience.

Munjya: A 3D horror game that requires players to collect resources and solve puzzles to achieve objectives, creating a thrilling and atmospheric adventure.

One Way: An open-world 3D survival game set in a jungle, where players must survive against wild animals and escape. The game features cinematic cutscenes that enhance the storytelling and immersion.
